MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1919.

COURT DAY ATTRACTS MANY PEOPLE TO OUR CITY WITH STOCK

City Streets Well Filled With Farmers—Quite a Number of Work Animals Offered For Sale—Many Visit Tobacco Market.

Maysville was well filled with farmers today who were attracted here because of County Court Day and stock sales. The business district was well filled with them while quite a number, wherein the stock yards where a good lot of stock was offered for sale. This was set aside as work horses and quite a few good work horses and mules were offered for sale although it is said that only a few changed hands but in every instance the price was said to have been good. The farmers did considerable buying among the local stores and the tobacco market on the streets was not stock or work horses but the price of tobacco. All were more than pleased with the prices they have obtained for their crops and all seem to be of the opinion that the way to hold up the price is not to have an over production next year.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS DETAILS ARE NOW NEAR THE FINISH

Constitution Is Planned and Program May Be Complete By the End of Present Week.

Paris, February 3.—President Wilson today began his drive for consummation of the League of Nations program before the end of the week.

Refreshed by a day of complete rest the president, following his address on the subject of the league before the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon, was to confer with the special committee which is working on details of the league's outline.

In this meeting work was to be taken up on the definite constitution of the league, upon which several tentative agreements already have been reached.

The president is working in the closest unanimity with Lord Cecil and General Smuts on the draft for the constitution, which provides for a permanent organization, to meet regularly and to have machinery for arbitration and economic punishments.

Complete agreement on the framework is anticipated before Premier Lloyd George leaves for London at the end of the week.

President Wilson met with the Peace Bureau this morning. The Balkan situation was discussed, with particular reference to Greece's political and territorial claims.

Premier Venizelos was the principal speaker.

The president has under consideration plans for reporting progress of the peace conference regularly to Congress in the future.

Reports from the United States indicate there is need of explaining the details of various problems being worked out, as a misunderstanding is obvious. The tone of congressional debates is liable to result in misapprehension by the other delegates here.

When Wilson arrives in the United States three weeks hence—he is scheduled to sail February 14—he expects sufficient progress to have been made for a comprehensive report to Congress.

After that, important negotiations will be reported to the American legislative body at his transpire.

Colonel E. M. House is recovering rapidly, and is expected to take a full part in the peace work this week.

PETITION IS FILED IN THE VALENTINE CASE TODAY

Chief of Police Ort Files Petition Seeking Out Thel in Encouraging Boys Under 16 Years to Steal Tobacco, Sixth Ward Grocer Contributed to Juvenile Delinquency.

As a sequel to the case against Mr. Thomas R. Valentine, Sixth ward grocer, who several days ago was arrested on a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency and which case was thrown out of court Saturday afternoon by Judge Parnell because no petition in the case had been filed, the necessary petition was filed this morning and next Saturday set as the date for the trial.

The petition was filed by Chief of Police Harry A. Ort and it sets out that sixteen boys all under 16 years of age did take, steal and carry away property, to-wit: tobacco, being the property of another and did sell said tobacco to T. R. Valentine. The petition further sets out that Valentine knew the tobacco was stolen when he purchased it and that in encouraging the boys to steal said tobacco he contributed to their delinquency.

This petition answers the contention of Mr. Valentine's lawyers on last Saturday and plainly sets out the charges made against the grocer by the Chief of Police.

ENTRIES TO POULTRY SHOW FROM OVER STATE

Persons Interested in Poultry In All Parts of the State Make Inquiries About Mason County's Poultry Show—Many Entries From Out of County.

Mason county's annual poultry show to be held in the Thomas building in lower Market street February 10-15, will be one of the biggest shows of the kind in the state. In fact, it will be much larger and on a much more extensive plan than the Poultry Association officers had in mind when they first suggested the show.

County Agent George Kirk announces that he has received many inquiries about the show from poultry enthusiasts in various parts of the state and it is more than likely that many pens will be entered in the exhibit from other counties not only in this state but also in the neighboring state of Ohio.

Special attention will be paid during the show to Rhode Island Reds, the official Mason county chicken, and arrangements are now being made to give Mason county people who are now for the first time raising pure bred chickens, some important information on the hatching and care of this particular breed of fowls.

Health officer is pleased with situation. Dr. J. S. Locke, County Health Officer, after making a complete survey of health conditions in all parts of the county, announces that he is very much pleased with the situation in all parts of the county and believes that there is no need to fear from a recurrence of the "flu" epidemic, however, he still urged each individual to continue his precautions.

Ground hog saw his shadow. The sun shone brightly at times on Sunday and according to the old timers, the ground hog saw his shadow and returned to his hole for a length of time during which spell, the old folks tell us, we will have severe winter weather.

OMAR DODSON, WELL KNOWN MERCHANT, DIED EARLY MONDAY

Death Summons Comes to Prominent Wholesale Grocer Following Illness of Five Months—Was Probably County's Wealthiest Citizen.

Mr. Omar Dodson died at his home in Third street this morning about 6:30 o'clock following an illness of about five months of a complication of various diseases.

Mr. Dodson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dodson, was born in Maysville on November 26, 1841, and was therefore in his seventy-eighth year. Practically all of his life was spent in this city. He has been identified with the wholesale grocery business here since 1855 when he engaged in business with his father. In 1863 the business was sold out to Lurty & Cummings and Mr. Dodson went to Cincinnati where he remained until 1871 when he again established himself in the grocery business here and he has been continuously in that business since.

Besides his grocery business, which was one of the largest in this section, he was the owner of six large Mason county farms and much city property and he was reckoned as the wealthiest citizen in the county.

He was retiring in disposition and never held office. He never belonged to any society of any kind except the Episcopal church, of which he was Senior Warden. He was also a director of the Bank of Maysville.

Mr. Dodson was married on February 14, 1869, to Mrs. Mary A. Armstrong, who died several years ago. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Isabelle Adair, of Paris and one brother, Almer Dodson, of this city.

Although not posing as a philanthropist, Mr. Dodson gave liberally to the worthy poor and was very liberal with his children.

An old citizen relates that in his 54 years of close social and business relation with him, he had never known him to make a course expression, to speak ill of any one, or to fail to do a favor to any one he thought worthy.

Funeral services will be in charge of Bishop Burton of the Lexington diocese, will probably be held Wednesday.

Officer Dudley Bloomhoff, who has been ill for several weeks, is reported as being much worse today.

Richardson of this city, and Messrs. Charles L. and Edwin Morford of Covington. One half brother and two half sisters, Mr. Joseph Morford, the Lexington druggist, and Mrs. Callie Moran and Mrs. Theodore Campbell of Lexington. Besides these he leaves numerous other relatives in Maysville and Covington.

Mr. Morford was a quiet, unassuming man, a very kind-hearted father, one whose greatest joy was found in working for the welfare and happiness of his family. In his associations with his fellow men he was a genial companion, liked by everyone. His death will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Mande Farnsworth of West Second street, who has been visiting in Pasaquola, Fla., has returned to this city.

AGED COLORED MAN DROPPED DEAD AT SHANNON MONDAY

Charles Demand, aged 70 years, colored, dropped dead at his home near Shannon shortly before noon today. The aged negro had been suffering from dropsy but was not thought so serious. It is thought that heart trouble was the immediate cause of his very sudden death. Coroner Thomas F. Higgins was called to hold an inquest shortly after noon.

COUNTY SCHOOL CONDITIONS CONTINUE TO IMPROVE

County Superintendent of Schools George H. Turalpaed, after a thorough investigation of health conditions in the various school districts where schools are now closed, announces that conditions are improving rapidly and that in all probabilities his plan to open the majority of county schools on February 10th, will be carried out.

TAME SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL IS EXPECTED

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council will be held at the Council Chamber this evening at the usual hour. So far as is known there is little of importance to come before the city fathers aside from the regular routine work and the session will probably be a short one.

Mr. Sterling, Ky.—James Potts, a negro, from Bath county, is said to have almost cut off his wife's head Saturday, completely severing the jugular vein. The woman is barely alive. Potts escaped, but was captured near Sharpsburg by Police Chief Tipton and placed in jail.

The Nomad Club will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Darlington Fee.

Considerable excitement was created in the city this morning when a small boy appeared on the street with a wagon loaded with tobacco which was pulled by three small dogs in complete harness. The boy was Lee Gaither, twelve year old son of Mr. Richard Gaither, of Washington, who was delivering his crop to the Peoples Warehouse. The crop, which amounted to fifty pounds, was grown by the boy, housed and striped by him and delivered by him with his dog team, they having hauled the fifty pounds in the small wagon all the way from Washington. Young Gaither is entitled to a record sale.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

WEED, WEALTH AND WISDOM

Farmers throughout Northern Kentucky and Southern Ohio never before in history have received the high prices for their tobacco that they are receiving this year.

Growers have become wealthy in one year; tenants have made enough money to buy farms on one year's crop and landlords have laid up in banks enough money to swell the individual deposit figures in the next bank statements to points they have never before reached.

The great demand for tobacco during the world war is in a large measure responsible for the high prices. The manufacturers have practically exhausted their surplus but the grower must be careful not to allow the high prices of this season to spur him on to an over production next season for when the surplus stocks are replenished prices will certainly fall.

Better grow a small crop at an average of $40 than a large one at an average of $15.

The growers, if they are wise, will watch the manufacturer's report published under the requirements of the Cautrill act, and will play safe by not letting the manufacturers get too much of a surplus on hand.

DON'T BE A PUBLIC PARASITE

There may be some things about the Maysville Chamber of Commerce that all people don't like but there's not a thinking business man in the city who will say that the organization is not worth while and that its establishment was not one of the best forward steps the city has taken in years.

There are business men in Maysville who every day reap benefits from the Chamber of Commerce and yet are not members. These men are in the small minority but every business house in Maysville should be represented on the membership roll of the organization.

The Chamber of Commerce is not operating solely for the benefit of its members, it benefits the entire community. We like to help anything that helps us and there's not a business or professional man in Maysville or Mason county who does not know—absolutely know—that he is being directly benefited by the business men's organization.

Maysville has the largest lot of business men in the state but there are yet those who refuse to join hands with the rest in pushing for Maysville and Mason county.

Don't be a parasite longer, join in and let's put Maysville and Mason county on the map in big red letters.

You are still unbeaten," Ebert is quoted as informing the Prussian Guard. Boy, page the marines!—New York Tribune.

CAPITOL CHAT

"Out of Order"

Washington, February 2.—(Special Correspondence)—The proceedings of the Privileges and Elections Committee of the Senate on the Michigan Senatorial matter bear all the earmarks of an attempt to railroad through that body the resolution to authorize the committee to investigate the election of Mr. Newberry. The other day a meeting of the Committee was held in the afternoon while the Senate was in session, which was against the rules and against the protest of some of the committee members. A favorable report on the resolution was jammed through and a few minutes later presented on the floor of the Senate by the Democratic chairman. Senator Lodge, Republican floor leader, promptly objected to the report as being out of order, morning business having closed some time before. While the Republicans of the Upper House do not intend to put any obstacles in the way of a legitimate investigation of the Michigan election, they will insist that due regard for the rules of the Senate shall be observed.

Looks Funny

Congress was asked by the President to give him $100,000,000 to feed about 100,000,000 people in various parts of Europe. When it is remembered that some of the working men of our own country are complaining that they cannot live decently on a wage of $1 an hour we wonder how long $1 will support an individual in Europe.

Many Like This

As illustrative of the utter lack of comprehension of the Administration of the industrial needs of the country a prominent Republican Senator tells of his observations during a visit to a great manufacturing plant recently. This concern never sought a war contract, but its facilities were commandeered by the Government. After the armistice was signed the production of war materials ceased, and the managers of the plant appealed to the officials at Washington to tell them what to do with the materials that were cluttering up their workshops so that they might return to their peace status. That was nearly eight weeks ago and no decision has been reached up to the present time. The wheels of that industry are paralyzed by the failure of the United States to fix a policy, and, as a result, a great many men are held out of work.

Bayonet Points They Knew

Senator Harding of Ohio relates a conversation he had the other day with a soldier just returned from France. The Senator asked him if he was not rejoiced at the victorious fight he had made for the President's 14 points of peace. "Hell, no," was the reply. "I don't even know what they are." Mr. Harding reminded him that it was the impression on this side of the water that our men were fighting to carry out the ideals of the Chief Executive. "My dear sir," ejaculated the soldier, "of all the soldiers I know upon the battle fields of France, every mother's son of them was fighting to whip Germany, and, by the eternal, we did it, and we are glad." "The point I want to make," continued Senator Harding, "is that we proclaimed to the world that we were making a war for democracy, and we never would have proclaimed it for a single minute if it had not been for the politics of the moment, when most men in public life were fearful of offending the so-called German vote in the United States of America; and instead of announcing that we were making war on Germany, which had trespassed on American national rights, we made the excuse that we were making the excuse that we were making war for democracy, and it has been a lie from the beginning."

RECORD BREAKER AT MAKING HOT CAKES

Champaign, Ill., Man Says He's the Champion of the U. S. Army at Flopping Cakes.

The following letter was received by a Champaign (Ill.) man from a friend in the service:

John here is an answer to a fellow who make 8000 hot cakes in 17 hours. I notice a challenge from Ensign Fred Anderson of the Salvation Army. I accept the challenge if the proper arrangements can be made. I agree with him that for a one griddle fry it was some work.

Although not a member of the Salvation Army, I am the next thing to it—am, or rather was a mess sergeant in a non-combatant unit. While in this line of duty I was placed in charge of one of the largest camps in France; I dare not tell the name of the place for it would cause every soldier in the A. E. F. to go A. W. O. L. to see this wonder kitchen. I won't tell you the number of men we fed there, for I don't want to give the impression that I am trying to kid someone.

Now for the kitchen! The kitchen range was 928 feet wide and 1358 feet long. It took 18 firemen to keep it hot; we had 519 cooks and 700 K. P.'s. We mashed potatoes with a pile driver and ground coffee with a 350 H. P. Liberty motor. They hauled out dirty pans on railroad cars and the K. P.'s went on roller skates. As I was mess sergeant I rode up and down the kitchen on a motorcycle shouting orders through a megaphone.

Now for the flip-jacks: We mixed batter with 12 concrete mixers; had a steam shovel moving egg shells away from the door and six K. P.'s with bacon rinds strapped on their feet skating over the griddle to keep it creased. When I tell you that on three occasions I was forced to fry all of the cakes myself you will agree with me in thinking I would have some show in a contest with Mr. Anderson. I am willing to take on any one in the Allied forces under any conditions they wish to name blindfolded, hand-cuffed, one eye closed, one foot on the floor; turn 'em with a shovel, toothpick—well any old way they care to do it.

Pardon this letter as I am not a writer—I am a pancake fryer and what it takes to make 'em I've got. (Signed) Clarence D. Brooks, Air Service.

TOBACCO WILL BE NEXT REFORM

Syracuse, N. Y., January 31.—Demon Nicotine is next. Prof. Frederick W. Roman, of Syracuse University, today announced that a movement will be started here soon to organize the No Tobacco League of America, which will which will have for its object the prohibition of tobacco.

DROUTH CAUSES GREAT INCREASE IN REVENUE

Revenue Collectors in Seventh District Mount Skyward as Drouth Approaches Reports Show.

More whisky is being withdrawn from bond in Kentucky than ever before, and consequently the tax receipts of the Seventh Internal Revenue District have more than trebled in the past year. The total receipts last month were $3,539,863, against $884,512.54 for January, 1918, and the collections for December were even larger, being $3,817,456.36, while the November total was $2,605,390.60.

The enormous increase in the amount of spirits withdrawn is due to the near approach of National prohibition and the doubling of the tax by the new revenue bill, according to Collector Elwood Hamilton, who said that the daily receipts at his office ranged from $125,000 to $150,000. Since the beginning of the fiscal year the receipts of the office have been $18,357,585.74, and since Collector Elwood Hamilton came into office June 10, 1918, he has reported receipts amounting to $19,758,383.46.

GERMAN WEALTH 92 BILLIONS ACCORDING TO FIGURES OF GERMAN STATISTICIAN

London—Here are figures on Germany's national wealth obtained from one of Germany's famous statisticians. Professor Karl Ballod, chief of the Bureau of Statistics of the Prussian government.

Germany's national wealth is 370 billion marks, according to Professor Ballod. That is $92,500,000,000 on the basis of peacetime exchange when four marks were equal to a dollar.

Now the mark has depreciated to a little less than half that amount, but Ballod predicts that the exchange will be normal in 10 years.

When the Red Cross opened a canteen in Sedan ten days after the Germans left taking all the food with them, the hungry people smashed the windows and crowded the little building until the floor cracked and the rear wall bulged. The donation party adjourned to the street for chocolate.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-134

NOW IS THE ACCEPTED TIME TO GET BUSY

Waiting Gets No One Anywhere—We Must Get Down to Business Now.

If we are going to have good times, we've got to get down to business now. Waiting gets no one anywhere. Many municipalities have been far-sighted enough to plan comprehensive schedules of public work, thus preparing to put money into circulation and provide employment for returning soldiers and discharged war workers.

The editor of the Urbana (Ill.) Daily Courier has the right idea. Read what he says in the following:

Paying and High Prices

"The average citizen of Urbana would agree without much argument that it would be a splendid step forward for this community to lay some four or five miles of pavement this year. There are a half dozen streets that ought to be paved which are now unpaved, and there are as many more which have been paved in years gone by, but whose present condition is a reflection on the progressive spirit of the community, as well as a continuing annoyance to those who have to make use of them. These facts are generally admitted, but when it comes to concrete proposals to remedy the situation, the first barrier raised is that of excessive cost. Paying does cost more than before the war. It costs a great deal more. Some claim twice as much. This, in itself, is not as great an objection as some people would have you think. Costs, after all, are relative. When paying prices are low, the prices of other commodities are also low, and those of us who make our living by disposing of commodities we produce, or the services we have for sale, are in no better position relatively, to buy when prices are low than when prices are high. When prices are high, as at present, money is plentiful, and practically every one has work at profitable prices. Although living expenses are high, it is possible to pick and choose what we shall buy, and it is feasible so to conduct our personal affairs as to have a surplus, if we make up our mind to it.

When prices are low, employment is uncertain, irregular, and for some impossible to obtain. Money circulates less freely; and most of us are afraid to spend a nickel for fear we will never get another. If we wait for prices to go down before we start to pave, we will be in no position to pave when the condition demanded is attained. It is much more of a hardship on a community to thrust an ambitious scheme of public improvement on its property owners in the face of stagnation and panicky conditions, than it is when conditions are what they are today, with money circulating freely, with every one employed, and with no one feeling the pinch of hunger or privation.

The way to maintain good times and flush conditions is to keep business going. We must keep the dollar turning over and over. We make money in a business sense, by spending it, not by saving it. Saving has its uses, and its virtues are indisputable, but there is a time to save and a time to spend. Stagnation is not prosperity. It is business death.

We should not be alarmed because our dollar will not buy as much paying as it used to do; neither are we justified in waiting to start such enterprise for the day when the dollar will buy as much as it did in 1913, or even 1915. Those days may come again—which God forbid—but when they do, we will be far less able as a community to undertake the expense of public improvements than we are today. We are through with war; we are entering the channels of peace; the road to prosperity lies invitingly ahead of him who will seize his opportunity in time. Action is demanded. We should not remain asleep at the switch, not let the rising sun of a renewed prosperity find our trails hopelessly blocked on a wide track while the rails on the main line rust from disuse. Urbana's watchword this year should be "Full speed ahead."

Also notice that Pollet, Ill., Milwaukee, Wis., Springfield, Ill., Fond du Lac, Wis., are ready to spend money for needed permanent improvements—and are going to spend it now. Why, is told in the attached reproductions of letters which are but a few of scores that Municipal and County Engineering is receiving and will print in its February issue.

Are you going to wait, or be up and doing? Unless you are I work, we can't have money and therefore can't spend it. Keeping the dollar rolling is what makes times good. And times will be as good as we make them."

THERE ARE A FEW

This is the story of a Columbian county farmer who had not bought Liberty Bonds, contributed to the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. nor any other of the war aids. Hadn't bought even a War Savings Stamp.

And it's true. The man who related it is one of the most respectable merchants in one of the most striving villages in the county.

Shortly after New Year's Mr. Farmer dropped into this merchant's store where he had long been a customer. He was better dressed than usual.

"Well," said the merchant after greeting him cordially, "I suppose you had a rosy Christmas out at your house."

Instantly the farmer gloomed. "No," he replied, "ye didn't. With this war and the high prices and all we didn't have a very good Christmas at our place."

The merchant regarded him with astonishment. "Why it seems to me that of all the men I know you should be the least handicapped by that. Your boys were both exempted for agricultural work. You're getting more for your wheat than you ever got in your life. Every other thing you produce is bringing the top price. Right now you're getting 75 cents for your eggs and 78 for your butter. Where have you anything to kick at? Surely not at buying Liberty Bonds?"

"I haven't bought any bonds," the farmer declared, half angrily. "I haven't been held up on any of these money grabbing schemes. I've simply stood out. Let the city folks who know about these things take care of them. They've had us farmers by the throat for years. Now we've got them where we want them, and we're going to make them pay. We're going to make hay while we can."

MOTHER WANTS HIS NAME ON MONUMENT

His Mother Wants His Name On A Monument

The following is from the Worcester, Mass., Telegram:

"To the Editor of the Telegram: 'I am only a private's mother; not even that now, for he is dead—killed in France by a German. I had taken care of him for 23 years, and it only took a second for him to die, so they tell me.

"I want to ask the Telegram to say for me in these few words that I will never rest in peace if I don't tell the people of Worcester what my boy used to say to me to jolly me up, as he called it, when I was crying over him being drafted. He would say, 'Mother, if I am killed, I will leave my name for you to look at on some monument like the one on the Common. Then won't you be proud of me?' And he would laugh, dance me around and kiss me. Now, O God, he is dead! Only a mother or father who has a boy buried in France knows what that means.

"Now his mother wants his name on a monument and not on the wall of a building. The good mayor tries to please all. If some people want a large building, it will be nice, but please have the monument, too, for even a little child knows that a soldier's monument stands for a dead soldier. Who, in going inland coming out of that building in years to come, will remember why it was built? They won't care.

"It would be nice to have the monument stand where all the parades pass by it, where all the busy working people can go by it on their way to work, and where mothers who choke back sobs in their throats and clench their hands as they weep cry in public, can see it, can stand beside it, touch it and know their boy helped place it there. I have no grave to visit. Please give me this monument. 'I wish other mothers would write to the papers and say the way they feel. I know you will print this, Mr. Editor, so I thank you now.

"A HERO'S MOTHER."

A LAND OF PLENTY OF TROUBLE
In the eyes of the world at large America is a land of plenty. A land where money flows like water, where prosperity is perennial, and where chasing the nimble nickel is the favorite all-the-year-round sport.

Incidentally it is recognized as the refuge of the oppressed, the downtrodden, the tyrannized and the unfortunate of earth. The haven of the persecuted.

Here are the elysian fields of earth where one can live and prosper and be happy without fear of the coming of all of that. Where freedom is universal and personal liberty is denied to none.

And when you get right down to brass tacks America is pretty nearly all of that. In many respects it is considerable more.

But there is going to be another side to the story in future. America has incurred an indebtedness of more than $20,000,000,000 that this same freedom and opportunity may persist. That the world at large may be freed from tyranny and oppression, from war and murder and rapine.

Uncle Sam sent 2,000,000 of his lushest youths to the front to drive the Hunns back to their lair. And though the Hunns were driven back thousands of those Yanks will never come home to tell the story.

Kaiser Bill has been dethroned, the German dream of world empire has been shattered, the menace of world tribute to Germany has been stilled, but the price the allies paid in lives and treasure was stupendous.

Due tribute is being paid the men who made this condition possible. Every honor is due the man in the ranks or out who did his full duty.

But lasting shame is the portion of him who shirked. And America is going to be the land of plenty of trouble and humiliation for this fellow in the years immediately to come.

For he isn't going to get away with it. He is a marked man.

The fellow who is in this class will do well to hurry out of it. While he can. And he will have one more chance.

For Uncle Sam is shortly to offer another issue of Liberty Bonds.

PALATABLE SIRUP MADE FROM SWEET POTATOES

Washington, D. C.—Experiments conducted in the Bureau of Chemistry have produced a palatable and wholesome sirup from sweet potatoes, the United States Department of Agriculture announces. The method, developed by a specialist in the bureau, is recommended particularly for home use where there is an oversupply of sweet potatoes. The method is not recommended at present for commercial use, because it is believed that sweet-potato sirup can not compete on a commercial basis with grain sirups.

The sweet-potato sirup, which shows a yield of from 30 to 35 per cent of the weight of the sweet potatoes, has consistency, taste, and color similar to cane and sorghum sirups. It is known to contain much sugar. Experiments to determine its exact food value are being conducted

I. M. LANE'S FUNERAL IS LARGELY ATTENDED

Third Street M. E. Church is Filled With Friends and Admirers to Pay Their Last Tribute to Good Man—Children Drop Flowers in Casket.

The Third Street M. E. Church was filled to its capacity Sunday afternoon at the funeral of Mr. I. M. Lane, one of the city's best known and most beloved men. The service was under the auspices of the DeKalb lodge of Odd Fellows, of which he was long a prominent member, and many of his brothers were present. The auditorium was filled with people from all classes who had known Mr. Lane in various ways but who loved him.

Rev. F. W. Harrop, former pastor of the Third Street Church, made the address as Mr. Lane had requested. In fact, everything at the service was carried out just as he had planned some time ago. A male quartette sang Mr. Lane's favorite hymns. Mr. Harrop read several passages of scripture which had been dear to Mr. Lane and had been selected by him and then preached a wonderful sermon out of the life of "Ike" Lane as he had known him for 27 years.

At the close of the service the members of the Sunday School viewed the body of their superintendent who had served as the head of their school since 1876 and each one placed a beautiful carnation in the casket as they passed.

The pastor of the church, Rev. W. S. Peters, presided and read an obituary while Rev. W. H. Morris, of the Forest Avenue Church, occupied a place on the rostrum as a representative of the Board of Directors of Ruggles Campmeeting, the chairmanship of which board Mr. Lane had held since its organization.

FARM LANDS SELLING

The property sold was as follows: Farm of 56½ acres of "Squire J. J. Thompson on the Horseshoe pike to Mr. Charley Schumacher.

Eighty-four acre farm of Joseph Robison, in Mayslick precinct to H. M. Jolly, of Fleming county.

Seventy-five acre farm on Hill City pike, W. H. Rees, to Phillip Galenstein and Mr. Welsh.

Half interest in the Rhodes farm of 336 acres formerly the Galbreath farm.

One hundred and seven-acre farm of Elgin Peck to A. H. Thompson and wife. This farm is in the Orangeburg precinct.

Mrs. Kilpatrick house and lot in Mayslick to Dr. Yancey.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Arn are in Cincinnati on business.

REVIVAL CLOSED SUNDAY EVENING WITH MUCH SUCCESS

Four Conversions on Last Night—Pastor and Musicians Kindly Remembered By Awakened Membership.

The special series of evangelistic services at the Third Street M. E. Church came to a close last evening. Despite the many difficulties under which the meetings have been held, especially the health situation, the meetings have been a wonderful success. While the number of conversions and accessions to the church were not so numerous, although at last night's service four precious young girls were converted and received into the church, the general toning up of the spiritual life of the church has more than repaid all efforts made. As has been said heretofore, the meetings were arranged as a part of the great Centenary Program of the church and were held for the purpose of placing the church in a working condition to carry forth this great program. The results have so far been quite satisfactory. The church will now go forward with increased zeal and interest in this great work. The pastor, the Rev. W. S. Peters, has done all of the preaching. And it goes to show that a real revival can be held without importing outside talent. Only get the church to work and the pastor can lead them to victory. Rev. Peters has made a reputation for intense, earnest, plain evangelistic preaching during the series that will make much for his success as a pastor of this church. Second only to the preaching of the pastor has been the most excellent and inspiring work of the chorus under the leadership of Carl Dadds. In two short weeks he has built up a chorus that would do credit to any church. The church and community will be gratified to know that upon unanimous request of the chorus Mr. Dadds has accepted the work as leader and director and the chorus will be continued as a paramount feature of the regular church services. The chorus will be organized on systematic business basis, and some fine work may be expected from it in the future. It was announced last evening that all Sunday evening services would be made of the same character as the revival services, using the songs made popular during the meetings. Also the orchestra feature will be continued at all evening services. The chorus will be increased in size. All who will be invited to its membership. To sing under the efficient leadership of Carl Dadds should prove a great incentive to the adding of new members.

A pleasant rather unexpected part of the program last evening was the presenting to pastor of a handsome purse, to Carl Dadds and J. H. Richardson each a handsome copy of the handsome morocco binding of the Methodist Hymnal, and to J. Robert Curry the pianist, a handsomely bound Bible, in appreciation of their earnest efforts for the success of the meetings. To say that all were deeply affected by this kind and beautiful expression of the church is putting it mildly; they were so full of emotion that it was difficult for each to express his thanks for the gifts. It is certain that this concluding service will rebound to the honor of God in the pledging of the church to a higher and better work. With such a feeling in the church future success seems assured.

NOTICE K. OF P.
All members of Limestone Lodge K. of P. are requested to meet at the hall at 9 o'clock Thursday morning to attend in a body the funeral of their late brother, John R. Morford.

OUR COLORED CITIZENS

All members of Pride of Mason Lodge No. 79 are asked to be present at 7 o'clock tonight.

Revival Services Closed

Sunday was a glorious day for the Bethel Baptist Church. There were large crowds all day. The sermons were beautiful and well received. Dr. Timberlake has been in the field as an evangelist for five years and Maysville has given him the largest collection of any Baptist Church in the state. When the envelopes were all in and the auxiliaries had contributed there was $237 for this man, who has done so much for the citizens of this town. He raised $153.50 for the church. These series of meetings will go down in history, as one of the most helpful, meetings, both spiritually and financially. The church has ever had. We appreciated the presence of our white friends in the afternoon and evening services. Twenty-seven were added to the church.

Just before the benediction was pronounced the large audience put down $16 for the pastor, Rev. Jackson.

MARKET OPENS WITH PRICES AGAIN HIGH

Indications Are That There Will Not Be Such a Rush on the Maysville Market This Week But Prices Remain as Strong as Last Week.

Since the Maysville market opened the first day of January each weekly average has been higher than the average for the preceding week. Last week the average was very high but prices started off this morning on the market as if this reputation was to be kept up on through the season. Prices were as good and probably in some instances even better than they were at the close of last week.

There was not the rush at the warehouses this morning, however, that there was at the beginning of last week and warehousemen are of the opinion that there will not be near the tobacco marketed this week that was sold last week. The advice of all tobacco men is that farmers sell their crops as soon as they are ready for delivery.

Sales held today at the Farmers, Planters and Home houses.

EULOGIES ON THE LATE SENATOR JAMES DELIVERED

Senators Laud the Late Senator Ollie M. James at Sunday Meeting.

Washington, February 2—Eulogies for Senator James, of Kentucky, were delivered in the Senate today. In the gallery were a number of relatives and friends of the late Kentucky Senator, including his widow, Mrs. Ruth James. Nearly all of the Kentucky members of the House of Representatives went to the Senate chamber to hear the speeches.

Senator J. C. W. Beckham spoke of Senator James as "a Democrat of the strict and regular school," and mentioned his ability as an orator. Senator Martin said Senator James's services once were sought in important legal cases which would have made him a large sum.

"Yet," said Senator Martin, "he refused to accept this employment, for he believed that it was not his legal ability which the litigants sought, but that they were seeking his services because of his political prominence."

Other eulogies were delivered by Senators Weeks, Thomas, Kenyon and Lewis.
